IUE Author Copyright Agreement

License to Publish

In order to publish your article we need your agreement. Please take a moment to read the terms of this license. By submitting your article to be published at IUE Conference Proceedings, you and all co-authors of your submission agree to the terms of this license.

By submitting your article to us you grant IUE and the publisher of the Proceedings the exclusive right to both reproduce and/or distribute your article throughout the world in electronic, printed or any other medium, and to authorize others to do the same. You agree that we may publish your article, and that we may sell or distribute it, on its own, or with other related material.

By submitting your article for publication to IUE, you promise that the article is your original work, has not previously been published, and is not currently under consideration by another journal. You also promise that the article does not, to the best of your knowledge, contain anything that is libellous, illegal or infringes anyone's copyright or other rights. If the article contains material that is someone else's copyright, you promise that you have obtained the unrestricted permission of the copyright owner to use the material and that the material is clearly identified and acknowledged in the text.

We promise that we will respect your rights as the author(s). That is, we will make sure that your name(s) is/are always clearly associated with the article and, while you do allow us to make necessary editorial changes, we will not make any substantial alterations to your article without consulting you.

Copyright remains yours, and we will acknowledge this in the copyright line that appears on your article. You also retain the right to use your own article (provided you acknowledge the published original in standard bibliographic citation form) in the following ways, as long as you do not sell it in ways that would conflict directly with our efforts to disseminate it. You are free to use your article for the internal educational or other purposes of your own institution or company; you may mount the article on your own or your institutions website; you may in whole or in part, use the article as the basis for your own further publications or spoken presentations.
